LEADERSHIP STUDIES
IN TODAY’S COMPETITIVE GLOBAL SOCIETY, success depends on working as a productive communicator, team player, and decision maker—all skills of an effective leader. Open to students in any major, the Leadership Studies program gives students an opportunity to develop and strengthen their leadership abilities.
With the diversity of the leadership program in content and application, I have been able to gain an understanding of the importance of different leadership roles. It has also clarified the importance of the role of followers. Whether I am in the role of a leadership position or the role of follower, the information I have learned in this program will be invaluable in my future.

OPTION 2

USE LEADERSHIP STUDIES AS A CONCENTRATION IN THE INTEGRATIVE STUDIES DEGREE PROGRAM AND GAIN THE LEADERSHIP STUDIES CERTIFICATE

In the classes I have taken, I have gained tremendous knowledge and experience that will help me to be a much more highly effective team member, coworker, boss, etc. Whether I enter into the construction industry or non-profit world, having an Integrative Studies degree with academic concentrations in business and leadership would be of great benefit to me. When a person in the business world has leadership skills, that person is often set apart from their peers.”

— Steven Cook
I took Foundations of Leadership with the hope of understanding what it means to be a leader. Throughout the semester, I not only learned about effective leaders and the various styles and theories they used, but I was presented with the opportunity to practice what I learned. Class was full of discussion and in-class activities that helped me to understand my own leadership style. This course taught me a lot about myself; it challenged me to try different styles in different situations; it helped me grow in confidence; and it redefined my definition of leadership.
