Introduction

Purpose

The purpose of this guide is to provide to new students at Kennesaw State an easily accessible list of the resources that are available to help them achieve greater levels of success during their time at KSU. While the development of this guide was supported by the First-Year Seminar program, it is intended to help all students, regardless of year.

We hope that the following links and descriptions will help aid students in becoming more familiar and more comfortable with Kennesaw State and its many programs, departments, organizations, and other groups. We understand that entering any college or university is a large task and can be overwhelming at times, so we hope to ease those pressures by offering three groupings of resources we find to be important to students. Beginning with Category I Resources and decreasing as the categories progress, we have compiled this document based not specifically upon importance, but upon necessity and levels of assistance to new students.

Best of luck during your first year, and we hope this helps!

Contact Information

Finally, we recognize that further additions or revisions may be useful, and we are more than welcome to suggestions. Please feel free to email Dr. Trivedi at nirmal.trivedi@kennesaw.edu or Madison Hilton at mhilton4@students.kennesaw.edu.

Web: careers.kennesaw.edu/employers/internship.php

From their website: An internship is employment that closely relates to the student’s major and is usually one semester in length. Students may also receive academic credit for their participation (with an eligible major) and the position may be paid or unpaid, depending on the major. The internship may be part-time or full-time but should include a minimum of ten hours of work per week. This program is available to third-year undergraduate students and older, as well as to graduate students. GPA, credit hours, and other academic requirements vary by major.

For an Alternating Co-Op, undergraduates commit to work with the same employer in a major related position for three semesters over a five-semester period, alternating between full-time work and full-time academic coursework on an every-other semester basis. Undergraduates must have 30 hours of coursework completed and a 2.5 GPA to begin the program and must maintain a 2.5 GPA throughout.

For a Parallel Co-Op, students work for at least two semesters with employers in positions that provide direct related experience to their academic majors. They may receive academic credit for participation and must be paid a wage. The position may be part-time or full-time but should include a minimum of ten hours of work per week. Second-year and older undergraduate as well as graduate students are eligible to participate if they have a declared eligible major, at least 30 completed undergraduate credit hours, and a 2.50 GPA.
